About These Programs

Reducing Your Health Risks

Risk factors increase the chance of developing or worsening chronic conditions. The good news is that you have a lot of control over your health. Even small behaviour changes can make a big impact on your overall health. Learn more about what you can do to improve your health in these sessions.

Food, Nutrition & Weight Management

Healthy eating is essential to good health and well-being. Healthy eating helps us to maintain a healthy weight and reduces our risk of developing some risk factors and chronic conditions, like high blood pressure, diabetes, heart disease and cancer.

Physical Activity

Physical activity is one of the best things you can do for your health. No matter your age, ability level or health status, we all need to move and sit less every day to achieve our best health possible. Even small improvements in your physical activity can have positive impacts on overall health, daily functioning and longevity.

Mental Wellness

Mental wellness is about feeling balanced, connected to others and ready to meet life's challenges. Healthy behaviours such as speaking assertively, being self compassionate, managing stress, and addressing our thoughts and emotions can help contribute to overall wellness.

Parenting

Parenting is one of the most challenging jobs you'll face and also the most rewarding. We can learn skills that help us promote and support the healthy development of our children. Being informed and confident as a parent and using effective strategies can help improve the overall health of your family.
